MONDAY MORNING, JULY 30, 1860.

To the Public.

THE SENTINEL, having double the circulation IN THE CITY, and more than treble OUT OF IT, of any other paper here, renders it far the cheapest and most desirable medium in Milwaukee for all classes of Advertisements.

EVERY BUSINESS MAN who consults his own interest, will avail himself of the columns of THE DAILY SENTINEL,—especially when he can do so at the same prices charged by other papers, and secure more than double the advantage of circulation.

This is no boast, but EVERY WORD TRUE.

Another Recruit for Lincoln!

STILL THEY COME!—The Nord Stern, the German Democratic paper published at La Crosse, has struck the DOUGLAS colors and run up the free flag of LINCOLN and HAMLIN. This is but another of the fast-multiplying signs, that the Germen electors of Wisconsin, true to their natural instincts and the traditions of the Fatherland, will cast their votes, in the coming contest, for the champions of Free Speech, Free Labor, Free Soil and Free Principles, LINCOLN and HAMLIN!

The Prospect in New York.

The special correspondent of the New York Herald has been travelling through the Southern tier of counties in New York and from his letters the prospect is that LINCOLN will make a clean sweep there. He gives the estimate of the vote in the several counties; among them the following:

Rockland—A leading position for LINCOLN over all.

Orange—Close; LINCOLN 200 to 300 plurality.

Delaware—LINCOLN 1,000 majority.

Broome—DICKINSON'S home; LINCOLN 2,000 majority; DOUGLAS 200 votes.

Tioga—LINCOLN 500 majority.

Chemung—LINCOLN a splendid vote; a plurality over all.

Steuben—LINCOLN 2,000 majority.

Alleghany—LINCOLN 3,000 majority.

Catteraugus—LINCOLN 1,500 to 2,000 plurality.

Chataeuqe—LINCOLN 3,000 to 5,000 majority.

The correspondent says the Republicans are fully organized and confident, while the contrary is the case among the Democrats.

HON. L. P. HARVEY.—It has been currently reported in various quarters that L. P. Harvey was or would be Candidate for Congress this fall. This representation certainly cannot come from his friends who know his feelings or wishes in this matter, for we do know that Mr. Harvey has repeatedly declared he was not a candidate nor would he in any event allow the use of his name.

When Mr. Harvey was named for the office he now holds, he was prominent among those mentioned in connection with Representative in Congress, and being from Rock County would in all probability have been nominated this fall had he not accepted the nomination for Secretary of State. All this Mr. Harvey knew as well as any one else, but the voice of his party with great unanimity pronounced him the man for that place, and he relinquished what was apparently within his reach, and allowed the use of his name at the urgent request of his friends, with the hope that he might discharge its duties with credit to himself, and for the best interests of the State.

Elected, he sat about the work, and those who know in what manner the affairs of that office had been managed under democratic rule, who were cognizant of the corruptions that had crept in, the extent of the profligacy and squandering of the public money through the practices of that office; and how faithful Mr. Harvey has been in the work, how the interests he was set to guard have been protected, how by his untiring perseverance the State has been relieved from the burdens heaped upon her under the administration of his predecessor, can only know how much the people of this State owe to their efficient Secretary of State.—Janesville Gazette.

The Janesville Gazette utters but the simple truth in the above reference to Secretary HARVEY. A better citizen, a truer Republican, or a more faithful and efficient public servant, than LOUIS P. HARVEY, Wisconsin does not possess. The People of the "Badger State" appreciate his merits, acknowledge his services, and will, when the time comes, make suitable return. We should be glad to see OLD ROCK, the Banner Republican County of our State, gratified by the selection of one of her sons to represent the Second District in Congress; and as Mr. HARVEY is not a candidate for that office, a grateful constituency will, no doubt, insist that, on the expiration of his present term of office, he shall be re-elected to that, or promoted to some more distinguished station.

SENATOR SEWARD TO WISCONSIN.—Senator SEWARD sends greeting to Wisconsin in the following letter to the Lincoln and Hamlin Club of Beloit, which was read to the mass meeting there on the 13th inst.:

AUBURN, N. Y., June 26, 1860.

"GENTLEMEN:—So long as I may live, I shall cherish in my heart of hearts the memories of the kindnesses of the Republican people of Wisconsin. It will be a more serious disappointment to me than to them, if I fail to meet them, or at least some of them, during the present season, and inform myself of the rapid growth and development of their noble State. I know that they will not doubt the earnestness with which I look to them to vindicate the principles and policy of the Republican party, by the support of Lincoln and Hamlin, its chosen and worthy representatives. If there shall seem to be any need of it, I will cheerfully speak to them in that behalf. But I want a little time to repair wastes after an absence of eighteen months from home—a little time to bring up arrears of correspondence with friends who are as patient with my seeming neglect as they are generous in their confidence. After these things are done, I hope to look into the North-west.

Faithfully your friend,
WILLIAM H. SEWARD.

The Lincoln and Hamlin Club, Beloit."

THE BRECKINRIDGE AND LANE CIRCULAR DEMANDING MATERIAL AID.—In these days of bifurcated Democracy, political secrets do not remain long concealed. The postmasters are receiving a circular, and the DOUGLAS papers are publishing it, of which the following is an extract:

"The Central Committee, under the direction of the meeting that appointed it, have had the duty imposed upon it of reminding you that all who are occupying official positions are expected to contribute to the expenses of the campaign. It is hoped, therefore, that you will respond promptly to this notice, and that you will not regard the sum of five dollars too much for you to advance.

Please direct your remittance to Thomas Sparrow, of this city, Treasurer.

JOHN DAWSON,
Chairman of State Ex. Com.
WM. A. NEIL, Secretary.

NATIONAL HORSE SHOW AND LADIES EQUESTRIAN FAIR AT JANESVILLE, WIS.—On the 4th, 5th, 6th, and 7th of September the National Horse Show and Ladies Equestrian Fair will be held at the city of Janesville, Wis. A premium list of three thousand dollars is offered, and the Fair will be open to exhibitors from all the States and Canadas. Besides the necessary inside arrangements of the Fair grounds, extensive boarding accommodations and Railroad arrangements have been made for visitors.

No doubt that the 4th of September next will witness a gala day for Janesville.

EMIGRANTS.—The number of emigrants arrived at the port of New York during the present year to the 25th inst., amounts to 69,217—an increase of 13,488 as compared with the corresponding period of last year. The balance of the commutation fund on hand amounts to $15,381.

Summer Letters—Railroading.

To enjoy a railroad trip, one must be some what philosophical, entirely moral, pre-eminently social, and endowed with a faculty of seeing every thing, or knowing nothing, as surroundings demand.

The first great question asked by the tourist is, What route? And here comes the irrepressible routes conflict. This and that are at sword's points. This one's attractions and that one's advantages, printed in artistic confusion and scattered everywhere, bother you You can't enjoy yourself because you are puzzled how. Here let an old Railroader, who has been over every important Road in the States, give you a little advice that is not tinctured with interest. I have traveled all my life—shot over the New York Central, crept over the "Chatikookee," actually jumped on the Hudson River and Bellefontaine Roads, made drawings of what I took to be an Indian fortification in Iowa, and which afterwards turned out to be the grass embankments of a defunct R. R. corporation, and I have shot looms from the smoking car of an Alabama R. R., while in motion. Am I not qualified to speak? Do I not know all about the Iron Horse, from his shoes to his throttle? Have I not studied the institution from its treasurer to its turn table?—Come to me!

You live in the North-West, don't you?—Well, you want to go East. When you start you want to get there. Very good; so I do it. And I take the metallic charger at Walker's Point, do the Michigan Southern, eat salt at Dunkirk, and spin into New York over the Erie. That's the way I do it. Not that I can't appreciate the advantages of a sail from Detroit to Buffalo, with state room and all that. But because, after I have hauled up my local anchor, I want to shoot, git, arrive. If I went East merely for the sail, I should start from Prairie du Chien, and go up the Ohio to Pittsburgh, or traverse all the lakes and breakfast at Collingwood. But I don't want to. Railroad, and nothing else, suits a fast man, a domestic man or a business man, therefore I Railroad.

The "Michigan Southern" suits me about as well as any, because I can make time and enjoy myself all at once; because the road some how or other always seemed to me to be a safe one, and because its internal arrangements for the comfort of travellers can't be beat.

The route is pleasant enough in all conscience—so are all routes—but its conductors are pleasant also, which all conductors are not. I aint puffing, you see; I am only explaining my opinion. I don't owe this or any other Company a sentence.

You say you want to go to New York with as little bother as possible. Then go to Dunkirk, and from Dunkirk direct to the Metropolis. I assert you will have less change on the way, and more change after you get there than by any other system of going. At Dunkirk the Eastern travel bifurcates—part going up to Buffalo and part going on straight to New York. The latter pursue the even tenor of the N. Y. & Erie R. R., loll in easy cars, broad and comfortable, for four hundred and fifty miles of unexampled scenery, and arrive at Jersey City without having to vis boat or barge, and very well filled with the pleasure of having gone thro' the handsomest scenery in America.

I left New York on Monday at 5 P. M., and by this route arrived in Milwaukee on Wednesday at noon. Undoubtedly other routes offer advantages special and peculiar—so does this. Let those who have to go down to the sea in great ships, sail over Michigan in those splendid steamers, and let those who have no special preference for a sea-going trip go the other way.

The lake shore route is as pleasant a summer route as can be found on the Railroad map, and to the business men wishing to combine expedition with enjoyment, offers extra inducements. SKIM.

EDITORIAL ACCESSION.—We perceive, by the last number of the Horicon Argus, that Mr. J. C. BUNNER, one of the readiest and raciest writers in our State, has assumed the editorial charge of that paper. "JACK" is an Old Line Democrat, and goes for DOUGLAS. Though he cannot help the "Little Giant" he will certainly make a good paper of the Horicon Argus.

FACTS FOR THE PEOPLE.—A REPUBLICAN MANUAL FOR THE PEOPLE.—This is the title of a modest, but well prepared political text book of ninety-four pages, edited by I. Codding, Esq., of Lockport, Ill., and published by the Princeton Republican. It embraces brief and appropriate citations from Mr. Lincoln's life and speeches, from the works and letters of Washington, Jefferson, Madison, Franklin, Monroe, Patrick Henry, John Randolph, Alexander Hamilton, Gov. McDowell, Clay, Benton, Webster, Seward, etc—the history of slavery legislation in the country drawn from the public records—the Dred Scott decision—and in brief nearly all the facts required by speakers, canvassers, and people in the present campaign.

Every man who wishes to be well posted for the campaign, should buy one.

From the Chicago Democrat.

This little work of his, alone, is in itself a host, and it will be classed with the speeches of Lincoln, Sumner and Seward, in the text book of the Republican party.

We have no hesitation in saying that in a small compass, it contains more information on the subject than any other work of the kind in the United States.

From the Chicago Evening Journal.

The facts are arranged under appropriate heads, and are therefore very convenient for reference. Every man who wishes to be well armed for the campaign, should buy it.

The above-named hand book, by I. Codding, is crammed with well selected and well authenticated facts, covering the whole Republican argument. We endorse the above notices of the press.

Extracts from a Letter from the Hon. J. R. Giddings.

JEFFERSON, O., July 12, 1860.

"DEAR CODDING:—Thanks for a copy of your Republican Manual. I have examined it, and most cordially wish a copy were in the hands of every elector in the United States.

"I hope arrangements will be made for its distribution in the Eastern as well as the Western States. It contains more information in less compass, and at less price, than can be obtained in any other work.

Very truly,
J. R. GIDDINGS."

ACCIDENT.—Considerable excitement was produced in our city this morning, by the rescue of a boy from the river, on the west side; just above the bridge on Main street beneath the store. He had apparently fallen from a boat, and was totally unconscious; but was resuscitated by the vigorous efforts of Dr. Johnson and others who assisted him But for the timely rescue by Mr. Ballou of the Democrat, and Mr. Gebhardt, both of whom plunged into the deep water with their clothes on, and also for the equally prompt efforts of gentlemen to resuscitate the lad, he must have perished. His name we learn is Steinfeldt, and his case should be a warning to the many parents who allow their sons to go near the water. The rescue was a noble act, which must afford life-long pleasure to the gentlemen who risked their own lives to save a fellow being.—Watertown Republican.

THE BELL PARTY refuse to define their position on the great questions of the day. It may very properly be called the Dumb-Bell Party.

FLY in all haste from the friend who will suffer you to teach him nothing.

Senator Fitzpatrick on the Canvass—He Goes for Breckinridge.

GOV. FITZPATRICK, who received the regular nomination for the Vice-Presidency with DOUGLAS, has written a letter to J. L. M. CURRY, dated Wetumpka, July 17th. He addressed Mr. CURRY, as follows:

"Your favor of the 18th instant has just been received. You say that there is a good deal of speculation as to my preferences for the candidates now before the country for the Presidency and Vice Presidency, and that you would be glad, if not inconsistent with my feelings, that I would indicate them.

The office of Vice President is a high position, a nomination which, if tendered me by a united Democracy, upon a proper platform, I am frank to say, I would not have declined.

I could not accept the nomination with Mr. Douglas, for the reasons set forth in my letter of declension, and for others, which I said in that letter, I would not then impose. I differ entirely with him on the territorial question, as set forth in my letter to Mr. Hudgeons last fall, and as indicated by my vote on the Senate resolutions, commonly called the "Davis resolutions," which passed the Senate at the last session of Congress.

Differing as widely as we do upon the question of Popular, or Squatter Sovereignty, and the protection of slave property in the Territories, I could not have accepted the nomination with Mr. Douglas, on the platform presented, without subjecting myself to the imputation of having abandoned well-matured opinions for the hope of obtaining power and place.

I would have supposed that those opinions, publicly expressed, and my declension of the nomination for the Vice-Presidency, would have been a sufficient guaranty that in selecting from the candidates, I would at least vote for those whose political sentiments conform most nearly to my own. I have always been a Democrat, and adhered with fidelity to the principles and usages of the party. The divisions and disruptions of the Convention at Baltimore should be, and I feel assured are, deplored and regretted by all Democrats, and by none, I am sure, more than myself.

According in sentiment with the platform upon which Breckinridge and Lane have been nominated, I shall, as a matter of course, yield them my support. Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

BEN. FITZPATRICK.

The American Representation of the Turf in England.

Cock-a-loop and Pomona, two of Mr. Ten Broeck's English purchases, have on several occasions this season brought "grist to the mill" by winning several fat stakes; but at the Newmarket July meeting, the prominent American bred horse "Satellite," achieved a triumph for the stars and stripes by gallantly carrying off the "Stamford Plate," valued at 200 sovs., with a sweepstakes of 15 sovs. and 5 sovs. forfeit, which as there were eighty-eight subscribers, although many paid the five sovereigns forfeit, made the total a valuable consideration.

Porter's correspondent writes of the event and the future prospect of the horse for the fat Goodwood stakes as follows:

"The principal item in the card to-day was the Stamford Plate, of the value of £200 given by the Earl of Stamford, and as this was the first year of this race, great was the excitement amongst the owners of race horses, 88 having entered for it. Baron Rothschild's filly, Queen of the Vale, was the selected of the talent, but instead of coming in first, she came in almost the last. Mr. Ten Broeck's star again being in the ascendant, his Satellite eclipsing all others and winning the first prize for the plucky American, and also a large sum in bets, most of the members of the ring having marked his name in their books to a good big amount. Satellite is a small compact horse, and from the fact of his having been mentioned in connection with the Goodwood Stakes, he held a lesee before proceeding to the post.

On all sides it was agreed that he had never been seen so fit since his arrival in England, and George Fordham eyes fairly twinkled with confidence as he put his foot into the stirrup. Mr. Ten Broeck backed the colt even after the numbers were up to win a good stake. As soon as he had seen all right he sauntered into the ring in his usual placid manner, and seemed willing to take everybody's "book" all round! The race requires little description, as none but the first three (Satellite, Brown Duchess and Stampede) possessed a chance before a little more than a quarter of the distance had been traversed, and Queen of the Vale almost stood still after going a half a mile, and could not get a yard further. Up to the plantation turn she was in front, but in another instant Little Daley's hands were up, and it was all over, the filly at once dropping into the rear. Satellite won very cleverly, his success at once bringing him into great prominence in the betting on the Goodwood Stakes. Before the race as much as 20 to 1 could have been obtained against him for that event, but instantly he won the plate only 10 to 1 could be got, and that to a very limited amount.—Satellite it will be remembered, was imported by Mr. Ten Broeck last autumn, that gentleman having given 1,000 guineas for the horse, the previous owner having given but £50 for him when a two-year-old. He ran but twice in America, and won both his races. The other events of the week, at Newmarket, call for no especial remark or comment; suffice it to say that Mr. Ten Broeck's colors were twice more successful on Pomona, thus again, (if anything was wanting to prove it,) showing that, if Umpire could not win the Derby, Mr. Ten Broeck can, and does win some of the richest stakes given.

Great Republican Mass Convention at Westchester, Pa.

WESTCHESTER, Pa., July 28—3 P. M.

An immense and enthusiastic Mass Convention of Republicans was held here yesterday, and was addressed by Messrs. Curtin, Hickman and Campbell.

In the evening there was a brilliant torch-light procession, with fire works by the Wide-Awakes of Westchester, Philadelphia, and neighboring towns.

Speeches were made by Messrs. Casey, McKeogh, Ritchie, Coffey and Cheesman of California. It was the finest demonstration ever witnessed in this county.

The Trouble at Occaquan, Va.

NEW YORK, July 28—3 P. M.

The Herald's Washington correspondent says, the only additional news from the Occaquan trouble is the fact that GOV. LETCHER has compelled Gen. Hutton to order out one company of militia to preserve the public peace. It is believed, however, that Hutton's sympathy is with the mob, and it is doubtful whether the troops would fire on the mob or the Republicans. Some officers of the Alexandria militia have left Washington, with the expectation that they would be ordered to Occaquan.

The Prince of Wales at Halifax.

HALIFAX, July 28—3 P. M.

There are more visitors here than were expected. The city is already overflowing. No important incident has occurred, except that the Prince will land at 11 o'clock on Monday. The Governor has proclaimed Monday and Tuesday holidays, but the telegraph offices will be left open for the purpose of forwarding messages to the Associated Press.

Additional by the City of Washington.

ST. JOHNS, July 28—3 P. M.

News by the City of Washington as follows:

Consols closed on Tuesday at 93 1-4@93 7-8. There was a good demand for money.

There was nothing important in the proceedings of the House of Commons.

The Liverpool Daily Post of the 18th says positively that the government disavows in toto the proposed transfer of the Galway line mail contract to the Canadian Co.

Wife Murder in Albany.

ALBANY, July 27.

An Irishman by the name of Thomas Whalen, who had been married only a week, residing in the town of Schaghticoke, Rensselaer county, brutally murdered his wife on Monday night, by cutting her in the most horrible manner with a knife. Accusing her of a crime against her nature, and she denying it, he deliberately butchered her. He is in jail.

Large Douglas Meeting at Terre Haute, Ind.

TERRE HAUTE, IND., July 28—9 P. M.

The Douglas ratification meeting here today was the largest political gathering since 1856. The procession was two miles long, and it is estimated that over 20,000 people were in attendance. Speeches were made by Lieut. Gov. Hammond and others. The utmost enthusiasm prevailed. To-night a grand torchlight procession is moving thro' the streets.

FOR GREEN BAY.

The screw steamer Wabash Valley makes weekly trips to the above port starting from Olmsted's dock

A Terrible Cutting Up.

Seldom have we seen Democracy so completely demolished, as on Friday night, in the hands of Mr. CODDING, at Albany Hall. The truths that came from his lips seemed electrical, and fell hissing and scathing on the astonished followers of DOUGLAS. There was no rant or frothing. Ponderous facts were simply taken up and rolled with irresistible force and quick succession upon the enemy. Mr. CODDING is unmistakable in every sentence; his language admits of no misconstruction, and the logic binding all together in a mass of indisputable deductions, and enumerated with the clearest utterance, renders him a speaker of extraordinary power.

It was interesting to see the DOUGLASMEN writhe under his inexorable touch. He knew every sore spot, and his blows fell unmistakably every time. The power of such a speaker is mainly in the great fact that all his listeners are compelled to believe him.—There is no escape. Everything is as clear as sunlight, and he only holds up his arguments and asks you to look at them. Such a speaker is a host in himself, and we are happy to hear that efforts are being made to secure his services in a series of speeches in Milwaukee.

New Dry Goods Palace.

The splendid building now being erected on East Water street, just north of "Uncle Ben's" hat store, and which is attracting much attention by its magnitude and symmetrical proportions, is destined for the inevitable dry goods business of J. L. DAVIS. The building is being erected by M. SHOYER, of Philadelphia, at a cost of over ten thousand dollars, and when completed will be equal, if not superior, to any structure of its kind in the city. The front, sixty feet high from the walk, will present an appearance at once bold and ornate, being of iron, and brick, with heavy pilasters extending nearly the whole height, and supporting elaborate window caps of metal. The pilasters themselves resting on Ionic capitals of extra architectural finish. The cornice is to be unusually bold, and will bear the name of the proprietors in bas relief. The building is 100 by 40, affording three large floors, besides a basement seven feet below the walk.

Nothing can exceed the excellence of the plans by which these several salesrooms are to be finished. The system, the compact arrangement, and the facility of egress and entrance will make them model business departments.

On the first floor the counters are to extend completely round, leaving only an interim at the front, and curving in the rear to a central stairway, which will lead to a commodious landing. They will also extend down the center, and enclose the desk, or, we might say, offices, of the local clerk and cashier.

The show window, twenty-two feet nine inches by eight feet six inches, will put some of the rival stores to the test. It will be in the center, with entrances on either side, and when filled with the goods DAVIS knows so well how to display, will constitute a small crytal palace of itself.

Part of the structure will be ready to occupy by the first of September.

Mr. GRANT is the builder, and Mr. SCHMIDINER the superintendent.

THE LYNCH AND GARDINER CASE.—We have been furnished with a copy of the preamble and resolutions, offered in the Board of Councilors, last week, in relation to the LYNCH and GARDINER cases, and have been requested, as a matter of justice to those whose action in the matter has been severely censured, to publish the resolutions in our paper. They are herewith subjoined:

WHEREAS, In the recent payment of large bills of costs, and for attorneys' fees, it is the experience of the city, that either to prosecute or defend a suit is expensive, while little, if any, public benefit has ever been derived therefrom; and

WHEREAS, Messrs. Ryan and Butler are now employed by the city at a great expense to prosecute the late Comptroller and Clerk, the former of whom has left the city, owing to ill health, with scarcely any prospect of recovery; and

WHEREAS, It is more desirable to economize and save the city, than to vindictively follow any one, for the mere purpose of making a public example of such individual, and thereby contribute a large debt for the city to pay to lawyer employed; and

WHEREAS, It is extremely doubtful whether Mr. Gardiner, late City Comptroller, will ever sufficiently recover, to enable him to return to the city and stand a trial, his life even being de-paired of at the present time; therefore

Resolved, That in the opinion of the Common Council, it is inexpedient and against the interest o the city to proceed any further in the prosecution o R. B. Lynch, provided said Lynch, will promptly pay to the city the full amount of his defalcation or indebtedness (if any,) or fully secure the same to be paid within a specified time, as thereby the public interest in the present condition of the city will be better served; therefore, further

Resolved, The Board of Aldermen concurring, that the joint Finance Committee be and they are hereby directed to ascertain at their earliest convenience the actual amount of the defalcation or indebtedness, (if any,) of the said R. B. Lynch, and if the same, when so ascertained, shall be promptly paid or secured to be paid to the city, then no further proceedings shall be taken in the matter by the city.

These resolutions were lost, as our readers already know, by a tie vote. In our judgment they were properly rejected. The Council cannot compound a felony. If Mr. GARDINER and Mr. LYNCH are innocent of the charges brought against them, they are entitled to an acquittal. If guilty, they must abide the penalty of the law. In either event the matter has passed beyond the control of the Common Council, and is in the hands of the officers of the law.

THE FIRE ON FRIDAY.—The alarm of fire, on Friday afternoon, was caused by the burning of Mr. HILDEBRAND'S barn, on the outskirts of the Eighth Ward. The building a frame one, was entirely consumed—loss some $360. Engine Co. No. 7, was on the ground and at work for sometime; but could not save the building.

RETURNED TO WISCONSIN.—Mr. C. P. HILLER, late of Sheboygan, who went South last year, on a prospecting tour, has returned to this State and opened a law office in Madison. Mr. HILLER is a man of character, education and ability; stands high in his profession, and will faithfully attend to all business, with which he may be entrusted.

RAIN STORM.—The city was visited on Saturday by a heavy rain storm which lasted the greater part of the day. From all appearances it extended over a large portion of country,

Special Meeting of the Board of Councilors.

A special meeting of the Board of Councilors was held on Friday night, Councilor WEBSTER in the chair; twelve members present.

A communication from MORITZ VON BAUMBACH, giving an account of his stewardship, and most respectfully tendering his resignation, was read and referred to joint committee on finance.

A communication from the Comptroller in relation to breakwater in the Third Ward on Beach street, was referred to Street Commissioners of the Third Ward. Pending the vote on the question, Councilor PLANKINTON moved to amend so as to include the judiciary committee.

Councilor O'BRIEN hoped the gentleman would move into the Third Ward and take care of it for them. He hoped the amendment would not prevail—but somehow or other it did.

A Directory of the City of Columbus, presented by that city to the City of Milwaukee, was formally accepted.

Councilor WEBSTER presented the bond of Mr. TESCH, City Treasurer elect, with the names of ALEXANDER MITCHELL and JAMES H. ROGERS as securities in the sum of $100,000.

Councilor GREULICH moved to accept and refer to City Attorney. The bond did not appear to be duly witnessed and the City Attorney could tell whether such was necessary.

Councilor PLANKINTON—I hope this will not be referred to the City Attorney. We have had enough of this business. If it must be referred let it be to the Judiciary Committee, who may report immediately I am surprised that any gentleman present should make such a motion merely to keep the Treasurer out of office.

Councilor O'BRIEN called the gentleman to order.

Councilor PLANKINTON—I am in order (striking on the desk). I have the floor and have a right to be heard. I say it is shameful—

Councilor GREULICH—I should like to explain. I don't think the gentleman understood what I said.

Councilor PLANKINTON—Yes I did understand.

Councilor O'BRIEN—Order! order!

Councilor GREULICH—I have no objections to approve the bond. But it is not witnessed. I don't know that it is necessary that it should be, but to make it certain, I propose to refer it to the City Attorney.

Councilor O'BRIEN made a speech. He though the gentleman from the Fourth Ward (Mr. PLANKINTON) ought to behave himself in the Council and not pound on the desk and try to force things down our throats that we didn't want. He went in for common justice and decency and all those indigenious products of the Third Ward.

Mr. GREULICH said the gentleman from the Fourth Ward wanted to make political capital like some of the newspapers which had recently slandered him (Atlas). Mr. GREULICH wanted to be independent—what did he care for newspapers. Political capital never entered his head. (A fact attributable not so much to the non-penetrating power of the capital as to the toughness of the gentleman's cocoanut.)

Mr. ROSEBECK wanted a hand in. He rose slowly and in his dignified way laid his spectacles on his desk and remarked:

Mr. President: It seems that the election of Mr. TESCH has made the Republicans so bold that we won't dare to walk the streets bye-and-bye. I regret this disturbance, Mr. President, It ain't nothing to me, but we ought to act more like men, like men under oath, coolly and so forth.

Mr. ROSEBECK having learnedly touched upon the evil tendencies of personal accusations, and shown, in a spirit of fatherly kindness and Christian moderation, that such things ought not to be, (put his spectacles on, and proceeded to pitch into the Atlas,) which he stigmatized as a "paltry little sheet," which had misrepresented him on divers occasions. He, however, intended to give the fellows all the rope they wanted, and by-and-bye they would hang themselves. Having finished the Atlas, (the editor of which was present) he tucked, and concluded by remarking in the fatherly way, that blustering and blowing were out of place in the Council; and members should attend to the business that brought them there.

Mr. GREULICH was very much afraid something was not right about the bond.—Of course he didn't know of anything, but then there might be something you know!

Finally, the motion to refer to the Judiciary Committee was carried, and shortly after the committee reported a resolution accepting the same, which resolution was unanimously adopted.

The committee, to whom was referred the petition of BROWN and others, in relation to the opening of Sixteenth street, reported in favor of rescinding the original resolution opening the said street.

The "Hannah Roelke" Case.

For the Sentinel.

MR. EDITOR:—I noticed an article in your issue of yesterday, headed "A Notorious Thief Let Off," in which the writer indulges in sundry insinuations against certain officers, because the case of the State vs. HANNAH ROELKE is not disposed of. If the writer had any reference to myself, I will simply say that in March last I submitted, in person, to the Supreme Court, a motion to dismiss the proceedings in the writ of error. After waiting several weeks, for a decision, I addressed a note to the Attorney General and requested him to submit the whole case to the Court, which he did on the 27th day of April, as will be seen by the following letter:

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE,
MADISON, May 19, 1860.

MY DEAR CORSON:—The case of "Hannah" was submitted on written argument on the 27th of April.

The Chief Justice just told me that they (the Court) had "not done anything with Hannah" as yet. I don't believe they will very soon. When they do, if I hear of it, you shall be advised. Yours,

J. O. CULVER.

P. S.—The General is not in town.

Mrs. ROELKE entered into a recognizance personal to the Chief Justice, endorsed on the writ of error, in the sum of $2,000 with sureties, which were satisfactory to R. N. AUSTIN, Esq., Court Commissioner, which is now on file in the Supreme Court. This recognizance cannot be forfeited until Mrs. ROELKE fails to comply with the final order of the Court, when they decide the case.

If Mrs. ROELKE has the means to retain an attorney to see that she has her legal rights, I fail to perceive on what grounds the officers of the law are responsible for it. I think that the insinuation that somebody has had their "palms oiled," whether the writer refers to her attorneys, who are undoubtedly paid for their services, or to the officers of the State, is too absurd to require further notice. Yours, D. CORSON,

District Attorney.

RETURN OF THE FISHING PARTY.—The party, whose excursion to Pewaukee we noticed in our last, returned home, Saturday noon, with some eighty or ninety black bass, pickerel, perch, rock bass, &c. In their two days' fishing, they "captured" over two hundred bass, perch and pickerel. They are quite enthusiastic in their praises of Pewaukee Lake, and of HEATH'S Hotel. The popular cashier of the State Bank, Mr. M. S. SCOTT, "landed" the biggest fish—a pickerel three feet long and weighing twelve pounds—as well as a black bass, of nearly four pounds.

BODY FOUND.—We learn from Coroner BLOOMFIELD that the body of an unknown man was found on the farm of WILLIAM C. WATERS, in the town of Franklin, on Friday afternoon last. From the evidence before the Coroner, there was no doubt that he died of delirium tremens. He was about 35 years of age; apparently of English or American birth; having light red hair and whiskers; about 5 feet, 9 inches in height; a red and blue heart, pierced by an arrow, tattooed on his left hand; and on his right hand, near the thumb joint, a similar heart, in India ink, and a bracelet, in India ink, on his right wrist. He was doubtless a sailor and a stranger to all in the neighborhood.

SALT.—Our friends W. M. BUTLER and W. F. HURD have been appointed agents for the celebrated Onondaga Salt Company.—Their office is at the Milwaukee and Mississippi Railroad docks, where they can store 100,000 bbls. of salt if necessary. Messrs. BUTLER & HURD are widely known amongst the mercantile classes in this State, and all who have had dealings with them, we are confident will be happy to renew the acquaintance in this capacity. The Company could not have placed their business in more content or trustworthy hands. Verily are such men the salt of the earth.

THE REPUBLICAN CLUB of the Sixth Ward will hold a meeting this evening at RILEY'S Brewery, on the Green Bay road. Important business will be transacted.

Republicans of the Sixth and other Wards are invited to attend.

GEORGE WACHTER, Prest.

THE LECTURE OF THE REV. MR. GUBBINS.—The Lecture of the Rev. Mr. GUBBINS, upon the "Revivals in Ireland," advertised for Saturday, was postponed, in consequence of the storm; until this (Monday) evening. It will be well worth hearing. The Lecture is to be given at Albany Hall.

THE WOOD MINSTRELS.—This company gave their closing performance in this city, on Saturday evening. The rainy weather kept many away who desired to hear them. Those present enjoyed their singing, dancing and jokes very much.

FALSE ALARM.—The alarm of fire, between seven and eight o'clock Saturday evening, was a false one. The Department turned out promptly, but could find no fire.

State Teachers' Association.

Notice is hereby given to the teachers that contemplate attending the State Teachers' Association, to be held in Milwaukee, on the 1st of August next, that all the railroads leading from Milwaukee, will carry teachers, to and from the Association, at half-fare—i. e., full fare on coming to the city, and return free.

The Association will hold its first session in the First Presbyterian Church, corner of Mason and Milwaukee streets, on Wednesday at 3 p. m., on the first floor. The Committee of Arrangements will be at the basement of the Church during the whole day, to assign persons, as they report themselves, places of entertainment. J. FORD,

Superintendent of Schools.

Republican Congressional Convention.

SECOND DISTRICT.

A Republican Convention for the Second Congressional District in the State of Wisconsin, will be held on at the city of La Crosse, on Wednesday the 22d day of August, 1860, at 12 o'clock M., for the purpose of nominating a candidate for member of Congress of said district, to be supported at the next general election.

Each Assembly District will be entitled to two delegates in said Convention.

The several Assembly District Committees are requested to take measures for the appointment of delegates to said Congressional Convention, from their respective districts.

MADISON, June 23d, 1860.

Mr. Hamlin's Pedigree.

The Democracy are exercised in regard to Mr. HAMLIN's pedigree. When we copied, a few days since, the ridiculous assertion of Mr. RHETT, of South Carolina, "that the Black Republicans had nominated for Vice-President a man with negro blood in his veins, on purpose to insult the South," we did not expect to hear any northern paper echo the palpable fabrication. But the Douglas organs are desperate and catch at any straw. And so the Detroit Free Press gravely says:

Hannibal Hamlin, the black republican candidate for the Vice Presidency, is said by R. Barnwell Rhett, of South Carolina, to have negro blood in his veins. Mr. Rhett was in Congress with Mr. Hamlin for several years, and professes to have obtained his information by means of a personal acquaintance. We presume Mr. Rhett is mistaken, but it is suggested that, nevertheless, from the purity of Mr. Hamlin might properly be the subject of research.

Here is a new development of modern Democracy. When before did that consistent party insist upon "blood" as a qualification for office? What has Mr. HAMLIN's "parentage" to do with Mr. HAMLIN's fitness for the Vice Presidency? What object do these Democratic organs propose to themselves by this "research" into his pedigree? If they want to know, from mere curiosity, what blood flows in Mr. HAMLIN's veins, they can easily be gratified. Mr. HAMLIN comes from pure New England stock, and during many years of public service, he has said no word and done no act, to discredit his "parentage." His record is before the PEOPLE, and they, at least, satisfied with the man himself, will not stop to ask and do not care to know, what is his pedigree. But there can be no objection to the Democratic organs pursuing their "research."

How New York Will Go.

A few of the more sanguine friends of Mr. DOUGLAS affect to believe that in spite of the union and activity in the Republican ranks and the divisions and dissensions among the Democracy, there is a possibility that the vote of New York will be cast for DOUGLAS and JOHNSON. One ground on which they rest their belief is, that the friends of the illustrious Senator from New York, WILLIAM H. SEWARD, are not earnest, or active in the support of LINCOLN and HAMLIN. In this they are grievously mistaken. There are no harder or more efficient workers in the Republican ranks, in the Empire State, or out of it, than the distinctive friends of Senator SEWARD. They go for LINCOLN with a will, and the States, which stood longest by Mr SEWARD at the Chicago Convention, will give the largest majorities for LINCOLN at the polls in November. We refer to New York, Michigan, Wisconsin and Massachusetts.

As to New York, a thoroughly posted Republican, residing in the western part of the State, who was one of the Delegates to Chicago, writes as follows, under date of July 16th, to a friend in that city:

"I can assure you, that whether the Brookinridge men fuse with the Douglas men or not—whether the Democratic party comes et us divided or in solid phalanx—under such, or any other circumstances that may possibly arise, the State of New York is beyond a peradventure, absolutely certain for Old Abe! You can safely count on from forty to fifty thousand majority, at any rate; and with two Democratic electoral tickets in the field, the Republican majority will be still more overwhelming. Three-fourths of the Americans support Lincoln, and many Democrats do the same. In spite of Douglas' boasting and bluster, you can count on New York being Republican to the core. Cattaraugus county will give 2000 majority over the combined forces of the Democracy, and just as large a majority as you want, provided the Breckinridge and Douglas feud continues."

More Leaks in the Treasury.

The telegraph on Friday reported another Democratic defalcation. It was that of Major SUTHERLAND, Quarter Master of the Marine Corps at Washington. The amount "short" was $30,000. This, added to the New York and New Orleans Post Office defalcations, makes a total of two hundred and fifty-five thousand dollars stolen from the Treasury and discovered within the last two months. Is it not high time that there was a general reform in the Federal offices, and an honest set of custodians appointed to take care of the People's money?

CONGRESSIONAL NOMINATIONS IN ILLINOIS.—The Republicans of the First Congressional District in Illinois have unanimously nominated their able and faithful Representative, ELIHU B. WASHBURNE, for re-election.

In the Second District, the Hon. ISAAC N. ARNOLD, of Chicago, has received the Republican nomination. The Chicago Journal says of him:

"Mr. Arnold is one of the most distinguished stand bys of the Party of Freedom in this city, and added to the undoubted sincerity of his Republicanism and his fidelity to its principles, are legislative and oratorical abilities, and a firm devotion to duty—qualities that should never be lost sight of when choosing candidates for the National Legislature, in such 'trying times' as the present."

OLD IRONSIDES.—It is announced that the Constitution, "Old Ironsides," will soon be in service again. Orders have been received at Portsmouth, New Hampshire, where she has been lying in ordinary, to fit her out immediately for sea. She is to be armed with a powerful battery, and to proceed at once to Annapolis, there to take on board the cadets from the Naval Academy. Thence she is to proceed to some port in the English Channel, whence her cruise will be extended to most of the interesting points on the Atlantic, and along the shores of the Mediterranean.

IN BAD REPUTE.—Capt. A. D. MILLER, of the steamer Bay City, has been in bad repute since his refusal to go to the aid of the Ben Lewis, when her boiler exploded at Cairo a few days since. In passing up and down the Ohio river his boat has been stoned, and on the 16th a number of shippers and steamboat men assembled at the rooms of the Marine Association in Pittsburg, and, after taking testimony, passed resolutions condemning his conduct in the strongest terms.

Statement of the Electoral Votes from 1789 to 1857.

The year of each election refers to the time of counting the electoral votes, and not at the time at which they were given.

At the first four elections, no person was named for Vice President. Two persons were voted for by each elector; and the person having next to the highest number of votes, was elected Vice President.

1789—NUMBER OF ELECTORS, 69.

Geo. Washington, Va.	69	John Rutledge, S. C.	6
John Adams, Mass	34	John Hancock, Mass.	4
John Jay, N. Y.	9	Geo. Clinton, N. Y.	3
R. H. Harrison	6	All others	8

Three States, viz. New York, entitled to 7 electoral votes, Rhode Island 3, and North Carolina 7, did not vote at this election.—The first had not passed an electoral law; the two last had not yet adopted the Constitution.

1792—NUMBER OF ELECTORS, 135.

Geo. Washington, (3 vacancies	132	George Clinton	50
John Adams	77	Thomas Jefferson	5
		Aaron Burr, N. Y	1

1797—NUMBER OF ELECTORS, 138.

Thomas Jefferson	68	George Clinton	7
Thomas Pickney	59	John Jay	5
Aaron Burr	30	James Iredell, N. C.	3
Samuel Adams, Mass.	15	All others	7

1801—NUMBER OF ELECTORS, 138.

Thomas Jefferson	78	Chas. Cotesworth Pinckney, S. C	64
Aaron Burr	73	John Jay	1
John Adams	65

The two highest number of votes being equal, the election devolved upon the House of Representatives. Mr. Jefferson was chosen on the twenty-sixth ballot. Before the next election the present mode was established by the adoption of the 12th amendment of the Constitution. That article provides that each candidate shall be specified, and the office named to which it is proposed to elect him.

1805—NUMBER OF ELECTORS, 176.

Opening of the State Reform School.—Proclamation.

STATE OF WISCONSIN,
EXECUTIVE OFFICE,
Madison, July 28th, 1860.

Whereas, The Commissioners of the State Reform School at Waukesha have certified to me under their hands and seals as provided in Section 14 of Chapter 355 of the General Laws of 1857, that the building erected for the purposes of the said State Reform School is in readiness for the reception of persons therein;

Therefore, in accordance with the law aforesaid, I do hereby proclaim and give public notice to all officers authorized to commit offenders to the State Reform School that the said Institution is in readiness as certified to me by the said Commissioners.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State to be affixed, this 28th day of July, A D 1860.

By the Governor,
ALEX. W. RANDALL.

L. P. HARVEY, Secretary of State.

The Institution to which the above Proclamation refers is pleasantly and eligibly located at Waukesha, 20 miles West of this City, on the line of the Milwaukee and Mississippi Rail Road. It is designed to supply a want long felt in our State—a suitable place for the custody and reformation of Juvenile offenders. The idea of sending young boys and girls to County Jails, or the State Prison, to herd with adult criminals and become hardened, by association and example, is revolting to every feeling of Humanity. In the State Reform School at Waukesha, youthful offenders against the laws will be kept by themselves, and under the effects of judicious discipline, kindly care and friendly counsel, it is not doubted that many may be reclaimed from the error of their ways and become good and useful citizens.

Consistent—Very.

John Van Buren joined the Free Soilers in 1848, because his dad was not nominated, giving the ostensible reason that General Cass was pledged to too ultra slavery ground. Now, he supports Breckinridge, who takes the extreme Southern, fire-eating, Congressional, slave code ground. Verily, Prince John is a prodigy; consistent as wormwood and honey.—Mad. Pat.

We dislike to spoil a good story, but we know that John Van Buren does not support Breckinridge.—News.

The following article which we clip from the N. Y. Tribune of Thursday, would seem to show that the News is wrong and the Patriot right in this matter:

A correspondent of the Journal of Commerce gives, with due formality, a little after dinner speech of Mr. John Van Buren, in which that distinguished politician declared his adherence to the cause of Breckinridge and Lane. "Gentlemen," said the Prince to the jolly company at the table, "Gentlemen, there is one family has got back safe into the Democratic party to stay for life. It is the Van Buren family; and if Senator Douglas only knew the long, dreary road he has to travel, he would, in my opinion, take the straightest route back into the Democratic camp."

This is, no doubt, very witty, for we are told that it was received with a great roar of laughter. But we must say that it contains the worst omen that has yet menaced the future of the Breckinridge party. Whatever Prince John touches he breaks down; and if he votes for a candidate, you needn't wait for the official canvass to know that the candidate is beaten. At the same time, he is, perhaps, himself his greatest achievement in political destruction; for if he had remained true to his professions of 1848, he would now certainly have been a Senator of the United States, and possibly President. However, he can console himself with the reflection that, in going over that "long dreary road," which has led him back into the organization though not in the confidence, of the Slave-code Democracy, he has constantly been guided by a star of conscience.—What is the loss of worldly honors to a man who values principle above all things else?

DICKINSON SPEAKING AGAIN.—At the close of a meeting in Binghamton to org an ize a Breckinridge Club, the Democracy proceeded to the residence of Senator DICKINSON, who made a brief speech, full of denunciation of the "thimble riggers, who gamble with greasy marked cards," who "cheat both sides," and whom he should yet "follow to judgment and execution."

HON. FRANK P. BLAIR of Missouri is to devote the month of October to the Presidential canvass in Missouri.

"Fusion" in New Jersey.

Three State Conventions met at Trenton yesterday to form Electoral tickets for the Presidential election. First there was one called by the Democratic State Committee; this consisted of 420 supporters of Breckinridge and 120 supporters of Douglas; this body nominated a Fusion ticket, consisting of three Breckinridge men, three Bell men, and one so-called Douglas man; if the vote of the State will elect any one of the three candidates, then all these Electors are to go for him: if not, they are to vote as they please, provided that in no event are they to vote for Lincoln. This Convention was very dull, and entirely undisturbed.

Next there was the Bell and Everett Convention where there was a lively time, and where the charge of Commercial purposes was much dwelt upon. This body nominated a full ticket including the three Bell men on the Fusion ticket, and giving the State Committee power to fill vacancies.

Finally there was a straight Douglas Convention called by the New Jersey members of the Democratic National Committee, which was by far the most enthusiastic and harmonious of the three. Here a full Douglas ticket was nominated, not including the so-called Douglas man on the Fusion ticket.—The voice of this Convention was all for war.

It will be easy to raise a howl against the straight Douglasites as proscriptive and injudicious, but in fact they have done what they must. Mr. Douglas' prospect is so blue that it is almost black; but if he has any chance at all, it must be in his character of regular Democratic candidate, and in the unity and enthusiasm of his adherents. The moment he abjures his claim to regularity and goes trafficking and dickering with odds and ends of factions, he is visibly "gone in." Whoever may or might be elected in the House, he plainly cannot be; and split tickets can at least only serve to carry the election into the House. Mr. Douglas' friends, therefore, must and will fight their battle squarely, for every trade means that they are counted out. They must go their own road.—N. Y. Tribune.

The Worcester City Regatta.

Special Despatch to the N. Y. Tribune.

WORCESTER, July 25, 1860.

There was a dense outpouring to the City Regattas this afternoon. Thousands lined the shores of Lake Quinsigamond. The stands were packed, and each had a band.—Vehicles of every conceivable build and capacity, crowded the roads and hill-sides. A fresh breeze ruffled the waters, and tempered the heat. Early in the morning it was whispered that the champion boat of Harvard was not entered, and universal disappointment was felt when the fact was made known. One of her men was too ill with an abscess, to handle an oar, and another suffering from the same complaint, caused by excessive training. The Judge's boat was fixed on the western side of the pond. In the first race of single-scull wherries, there were four entries: The Oscar Teed of Newburgh, the Naiad of New Haven, the Friendship of Boston, and the Unknown.

The first boat was rowed by the champion sculler of America, Joshua Ward. He took the lump splendidly, his long and hearty strokes commanding admiration, and made the two miles in 16m. 17 1-2s., followed by the Friendship in 15m. 93s., the Unknown in 16m. 8s. The Naiad was distanced. First prize, $50; second, $30.

The double sculls entered were the Mary Louisa Ludlim, of Newburgh; LeVoyageur, of Boston; E. K. G. of Boston; and a nameless Williamsburgh boat. The start was very even, and the distances were finely preserved. The nameless was distanced. The Mary Louisa did the two miles in 16m. 10s.; Le Voyageur in 16m. 18s; E. K. G. in 15m. 46s. First prize, $50; second, $20.

The enthusiasm of the spectators was reserved for the third race. The Thetis, of Harvard Freshmen, the Thulia, of Yale Sophomores, and the Harvard Sophomore Class boat were entered. The start was simultaneous, and as the boats passed the stand, the backs of the men keeping time, there were loud huzzas. The Thulia, when about a quarter of a mile from the Judges' boat, stood still. Her crew claimed a foul on the part of the Harvard Sophomores. This gave rise to a discussion of technicalities, during which the Harvard boats completed the course—the Sophomores in 19m. 44 1-2s., the Freshmen in 20m. 13s.

Up to this time the question of feeling has not been decided, but it is probable it will be decided against the Harvard men, by whom the collision was invited. First prize $75; second $35. In every event the second prize cannot go to the Thulia, as she did not go over the course.

The last race was the most interesting of all. Four boats were entered. The Gersh Banker of Newburgh, six-oared shell, Josh Ward stroke; the Yale; the Union, four-oared shell, of Boston; the Quickstep, four-oared shell, of Boston. The Brown University boat Cremonia, was entered; but she sprung a leak, to the utter disappointment of her friends, and had to be withdrawn.

Large bets were offered upon the Newburgh crew, who are professional oarsmen, and a splendid set of bodies. The Banker shot straight ahead at the word "go," and held the lead all the way round. She crossed the line in 18 min., 37 sec., the fastest time ever made by a boat of her class in a three mile heat. It was received with immense enthusiasm. The Yale came in second best in 19 min., 10 sec. The Union followed in 19 min. 41 sec., and the Quickstep in 21 min., 26 sec. First prize, $100; second, $50.

Many of the beats will be taken away tonight, and the students are rapidly leaving. The citizens are not likely to invite the next regatta, disorders occasioned by the jovial boys having kept them awake two nights.

STAMPEDE FROM THE HOUSE OF REFUGE.—NINETY-THREE BOYS ESCAPE.—We learn from the Rochester papers that some ninety-three boys made their escape from the House of Refuge yesterday. It appears that the boys were sent out into the yard to play, to the number of nearly three hundred—the officer who was in charge, remaining behind for a few minutes to look up four of the boys who escaped over the wall last Sunday. They being under restriction in consequence of that affair. While apparently at play, a large crowd of boys gathered about the large gates on the west side of the yard, and one of them succeeded in forcing the bolt of the lock with a chisel which he had taken out of one of the workshops. The doors were pushed open at once, and there was a general rush for the outside. Ninety-three boys succeeded in escaping and scattering in almost as many directions, pursued as soon as possible by the men who witnessed the proceeding. Some were re-taken almost immediately, while others gave the pursuers a good deal of trouble—not a few of them swimming the canal—while a good many kept altogether out of the way and are yet at large. Up to the present time, between sixty and seventy have been re-taken. There is a standing reward of $10 for the return of each boy. One man caught six yesterday afternoon another four, and others from one to three each—making very good wages.—Buffalo Com. Adv.

LINCOLN IN WAUPACCA COUNTY.—The Waupaca Spirit of the 25th inst. contains the following:

"We notice the Milwaukee News in figuring up the Douglas papers, enumerates: Herald and Spirit, Waupaca. Now there being such paper as the Herald in the county, is fair to infer that that at least don't give very hearty support. But that the Spirit of thinks Douglas the most lunevish politic of the day—should be reckoned among supporters, is too much. Lincoln and Ha lin are at our mast head; they have flo there ever since the nomination. Now co. our statement: Waupaca county has Douglas paper. A Breckinridge man forms us that Weyauwega has a Breckinri Club of 27 members—and this county be about the same proportion. Many Dem crats are flocking to the Republican sid We count on 1000 majority for the Rail Sp ter in Waupaca county."

IN PROBATE.—An instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of Stephen A. Douglas, late of Illinois, (political) deceased. It is understood the instrument bequeaths to W. Hunt, [a piece of priv "legislation,"—by the way, decidedly "unfriendly to his former political associates an outside coat, sometimes worn by Stephen in his lifetime, particularly in "rainy weather." The coat is thoroughly lined, on the inside, with the manuscript opinion of Chief Justice Taney in the Dred Scott case, and like the coat of Joseph, is of many colors. It would better become the elegant and "conservative" form of Hunt, if its tail did not "come too near the ground."

Pimples on the Face and Skin Diseases

ARE GENERALLY CAUSED BY ANimalcule burrounded in the skin. Dr. Trask's Magnetic Ointment, by its powerful and penetrating qualities, destroys every vestige of them, restoring health and beauty to the skin wherever applied, removing Tan and Freckles.

Inflamed or Sore Eyes.

A. G. Cushing, of South Bend, Ind., says: "The Magnetic Ointment is the only remedy in use here for INFLAMED EYES. The druggist of our county has so much faith in its curative powers in this disease, that he not only highly recommends it, but offers to forfeit the amount paid for it in each case, if it fails of a cure."

Piles.

Piles which are at this season of the year particularly troublesome, are cured in once by Trask's Magnetic Ointment; apply to the parts affected and smell of the back.

Nervous or Sick Headache.

Apply the Ointment freely to the forehead and temples and back of the neck, also to the soles of the feet and palms of the hands. It will relieve the severest headache in thirty minutes.

SMITH BROTHERS.

[CONCLUDED.]

I found that my brother had worked wonders during my absence. Our old home no longer looked a gloomy abode, even for a young girl. Fresh, bright paper was on the walls; carpets of rich hues covered the floors; tasteful furniture was disposed about the apartments, and a room, leading from the little parlor, especially designed for our guest, had been transformed into a conservatory and was already gay with flowers. With one consent we entreated Miss Chelmsford to assume the office of housekeeper, as neither of us felt competent to regulate any longer the affairs of a household which was to number such a member. She promised, with her customary sweetness, to comply with our request, and presently our domestic arrangements put on an order and beauty that they had never known before.

When we were fairly settled at home I had leisure to study Margaret Chelmsford, the first young lady with whom I had ever been familiarly associated. Until then, I had not observed what affected me strangely now, her remarkable resemblance to my memories of my mother; to the ideal I had so long cherished of my future wife. Here were the little graceful figure, the brownish blue eyes, the low, sweet voice, the winning smile; here, and my heart thrilled as it had never thrilled before, was the woman I could love.

Thirty-six began to seem very old to me.—Sixteen years between me and the young life I long'd to link to my own. I did not mention these thoughts to my brother. For the first time in our lives there was a shadow between us; a fine indefinable ice to reserve. I think it rose, on my part, not from any unwillingness that he should read my heart, but from a secret fear, as bitter as secret, lest he also might recognize in her the ideal we had both so long cherished, and love her as I loved her. Besides, I had so little hope, it seemed useless to talk of it.

She made no distinction in the manifestation of her regard between my brother and me. To us both she was uniformly all that a young sister could have been: the joy and brightness of our home and our lives. Perhaps she came to me most frequently for advice concerning her affairs, which was but natural, as I had taken them upon me at first.

A year passed away thus. She growing reconciled to her loss, and blessing our home with her youth and beauty. We, alas! I could not shut my eyes to that now, we loving her, loving her both of us, desperately, secretly, almost hopelessly. There are flowers that bloom only once in a century, but fervid and tropical in their late untolding. Love was slow and late in coming to our two lives, but now its sway was absolute. And yet we were faithful brothers still. I do not think either of us dared to indulge a heartfelt longing for a success overshadowed by such blackness of desolation as it must bring to the other.

At length I resolved to speak. She could but refuse me. Better to know at once that the flaming sword guarded forever against me the gate of my longed for Eden, than to wait afar off in such intolerable suspense. I would try my fate. I went toward her especial sitting room. In the passage I met my brother, going also in the same direction. In an instant it flashed upon me that his errand was identical with my own. Come what would, no woman's love should divide us whom Heaven had made brothers. I went up to him and laid my hand on his arm.

"Come with me, brother," I said opening the library door. He followed me in and stood silently before the fire. I went on: "I know what your errand was, brother—mine was the same. It was impossible that we should not both love her. She was the woman about whom we had been dreaming all our lives. She came, and we could not but worship her, you and I. But we are brothers still. No other tie can sever that. Let us love each other whatever comes."

We are much alike, but I think my brother has more of fire in his nature than I. His eyes kindled, and he answered with an earnestness which was almost savage:

"Brothers or not, no man has a right to force me to give up my love. I will have her, if I can, in spite of all the world."

"So you shall. If she loves you, she will marry you. I know her well. No power would force her, neither want, nor pride, nor gratitude to give her hand where she did not love. I only meant to pray you to let nothing separate us. However she may decide, one, at least, of us, will have bitter need of consolation. Go you first; I myself think your hope is better than mine."

He would have hesitated then, but I urged him forward. If he succeeded, she would never know how my whole being had poured out its adoration before her; if he failed, I could but try my fate also. He was not there long. I was cool enough, in the midst of my suspense, to know he had been absent but a few moments when he re-opened the library door. His face was white with repressed suffering. He came up to me and said, hoarsely:

"Brother, she does not love me. I told her you would come next. She said something in answer. I did not hear what. Go you in, now."

I found her weeping, but she roused herself at the sound of my footstep, and cried passionately:

"Not you—not you also! Do not give me the pain of thinking that I must wound my best friend. Your brother said you were coming, and I told him it would be of no use. You would not want me without my love. Oh, wretched girl that I am, to have brought unhappiness to the roof that sheltered me, when I was an orphan and alone!"

I found strength to answer her:

"Do not fear, dear Margaret. You have brought us more good than evil. We are men. We will conquer ourselves like men. You shall be our sister when you can forgive us for the pain we have caused you."

I went out to Abijah, who waited for me.

"I have failed also."

It was all that I could say.

His arms opened and clasped about me in an embrace such as those with which we had comforted each other in boyhood. I had lost Margaret, but I had found again my brother. I have nothing more to say about the suffering that followed. It is idle to dwell upon it. God sent it, and we bore it manfully, I and my brother.

The next day there came to us a little note from Margaret. It was such an one as it was like her kindness and delicacy to write. She had chosen that mode of communication because she thought it would be easier than to speak to us of what so nearly concerned her own heart. She wrote very tenderly, thanking us more warmly than we deserved for our kindness to her, a lonely orphan; praising us far beyond our poor merits, and telling us it would have been scarcely possible for a girl whose heart was free to have remained insensible to our devotion. For herself, hers was not free. Before she came to us it had passed from her keeping. She had loved and been beloved by the physician—a young man, poor but talented—who attended her mother in her last illness. She had never known his love for her until he bade her farewell the day before she left Oswego. Then he had told her all, and though, because he must be, for a long time to come, too poor to marry, he would not permit her to bind her self by an engagement, she knew that he looked upon her as his future wife.

She took great blame to herself for not having told us this at first. If there had been a Mrs. Smith she was sure she would have confided all to her; but, as there was no actual promise of marriage, she could not bring herself to speak of it to us, particularly as she never supposed it possible that she should possess any hold upon our hearts save the generous sympathy which had opened them to her. She hoped in time we should be far happier than she could have made either of us. She knew us to well, alas! to think we had loved her with a love to be at once conquered; but time and her absence, for she must leave us now, would bring healing.

We read the letter together, and as we finished it my brother looked up

"We have much more than enough for two solitary men; let us make her happy with half of it."

He had uttered the thought that was in my heart also. He replied to Margaret's letter, for nature had made him more eloquent than I. He begged her to remain with us, by entreaties, that could not be resisted; expatiated her from the faintest shadow of blame, and claimed her, in behalf of us both, and for the sake of the tender love between our dead mothers, for our sister, henceforth.

In the meantime I wrote to Dr. Wentworth, at Oswego, informing him that circumstances had induced my ward to confide in me the relations existing between them, and hinting that her dowry would be sufficient to make their marriage prudent at any time. In conclusion, I begged leave to offer him the advice of a man who had seen more of life than himself, not to delay his happiness too late.

It ended as we had foreseen and intended. We persuaded Margaret to remain with us until she was married, and that was not long.

The dear child was very happy, though I could see with what delicate tenderness she strove not to show us all her joy. We see her often, and we like to think that she owes as part of her happiness. It is all the sweeter that she does not know it.

We live alone again in the old house, with the old servants. The paper on the walls, the carpets on the floors, have grown dim, and time has softened a little the memory of the sharpest wound our hearts ever received. We have given up thoughts of love and marriage. We shall live together until death parts us; but when that hour comes, and they pull down the sign of "Smith Brothers," there will be no one to take our name, or our place.

NEW ARRANGEMENTS.

HUNN & CROSBY,

c. 181 East Water St., Milwaukee,

Five doors north of Uncle Sam's Hat Store.

TAKE THIS OCCASION TO AN-nounce to their friends, and the public at large, that they have removed from their old quarters to their present location for the purpose of containing to transact a commission business in their business, and to keep pace with the rapid growth of their trade. We have just made heavy additions to our stock, which makes ours the best assorted Family grocery in town, and we intend to keep it full, as we always have been in the past, the best in the market with every novelty of the season. We are receiving goods every week from the East, Richey assortment for cash. Everything pertaining to the trade can be found at our establishment, and we are prepared to sell at wholesale as well as retail, on as favorable terms as any rovers in town. Teas, Sugars, Coffees, Dried Fruits, Hermetically Sealed Fruits, and every other article usually found in first-class family grocery are sold by us, and always warranted as represented. We will sell you a better Tea for fifty cents, than you can buy anywhere else in town, for seventy five, and as good a one for forty, as our windy competitors, who make such a blow on Teas will or can sell for fifty. We mean what we say, and stand ready to verify it every hour in the day and every day in the week. We make it a point never to be undersold, and want it distinctly understood that we do sell business upon that principle.

Country merchants can always sort up their stock with us, to a good advantage. We will sell you goods by the package as low as any of the wholesale dealers down town.

Orders by mail are received by us daily, from our agents in the country.

☞ TERMS CASH.

We especially invite our friends and customers, and the public generally, to call and see us in our new institution, and make an examination of our goods and prices. Strict attention paid to orders.

CAUTION TO INFRINGERS.

Patentis sued in the United States, Nov. 5th, 1815. Reissued, Jan. 4th, 1851. Second Patent, March 4th, 1851. Patented also in Great Britain and the Canadas, June 5th 1851.

This improvement consists in making regulating valves to open with a rapidly increasing ratio of opening, increasing the width of the opening more in the valve—or by accelerating the opening motion of the ordinary valves in use—or by combining increased width of opening, with accelerated valve motion. My patent Valves and Governors are so arranged as to give the resistance to my motion, (or retard of the engine,) the power to open the valve just the exact amount of aperature necessary to counteract that resistance and impart the motion, by the addition of equal amounts of resistance, neither more nor less; and the action of the governor is continually decreasing in its effects.

I therefore reverse the action of valves combined with governors, as heretofore used. And as this effect can be produced by many different mechanical devices, (apparently not similar, but really identical with my improvement,) for which infringers have imposed upon the public, I therefore caution and request all persons interested, to examine carefully all alleged improvements in these governors, and see if the application of this truth or principle, first discovered and applied by me, is not involved in their pretended improvement, whether it be a stand valve, the purchaser and inventor, both of which are at present much annoyed by their piratical depredations. TELEGRAPH!

REPORTED BY THE N. Y. ASSOCIATED PRESS FOR THE DAILY SENTINEL.

Matters in Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, July 28—9 P. M.

James Valentine, a negro draykman, was arrested this morning by Deputy Marshal Jenkins, on the supposition that he was a Fugitive Slave. In the hearing, it was proved that Valentine was a native of N. J., and has been a resident here for thirty years, and the case was dismissed. Valentine was roughly handled when he was arrested, and has in consequence commenced legal proceedings against the officer. There is great indignation among his friends.

The Chicago Zouaves arrived here this P. M. They were received by the Washington Greys, who escorted them through the principal streets in the city to Jones' Hotel. An immense crowd gathered to watch their movements, and the universal sentiment at the perfectness of their drill and marching was that of admiration. President Broadhead, of the Camden & Atlantic R. R., tendered them an invitation to visit the sea shore early next week.

Appalling Calamity near Watertown, N. Y.—Five Persons over Black River Falls.

WATERTOWN, July 28—9 P. M.

Five persons, Mrs. J. J. B. Prineau and child, Mrs. J. J. M. Prineau, Mr. Beauslell and Miss Louisa BeGaud, went over the Black River Falls at this place in a boat, this P. M., and all were drowned. The body of one lady is to be seen hanging upon a rock below the Falls, and efforts are being made to reach it.

New York Matters.

NEW YORK, July 28—9 P. M.

The tug Minton, while towing the canal boat A. H. Philips this morning, exploded her boiler, severely scalding Geo. Walter, who was at the helm of the canal boat, and blowing Wm. Johnson overboard, but not injuring him. The tug was badly damaged.

Mrs. Mehler was scalded to death yesterday by falling into one of her husband's beer vats, in the 9th ward.

GRAND CHANCE TO SECURE A HOME on such terms that any one who has any industry can do it. Mr. Gridley, who owns one-half of Lockwood & Gridley's Addition, has made me his Sole Agent to sell his lots in said Addition, at unusually low prices, to any one who will improve them, and on such terms that any one can meet the payments easily. It is unnecessary to go into argument to convince one who has any judgment that this property is situate in the Fifth Ward, Milwaukee City, which is situate in the finest residence property in the city of Milwaukee. It is in full view of the lake and on high ground which is dry and healthy, and where no higher ground can be found. Its location for business men is very desirable, the Horse Railroad passing through it every few minutes. Every man who wants a home should be said about this valuable property, but we will only say, any persons who have any desire to own a city or rural home, we will give any desirable property on which title can be perfected. The terms of sale are as follows: One-fifth cash, balance in three equal annual payments, with interest at the rate of 7 per cent per annum, interest to commence with six months after the date of purchase. There is no other property offered, and there is every reason to believe that this property will advance 100 per cent, in less than twelve months. The first advance of the Horse Railroad must, and will make it very desirable. The lots are free from all encumbrances whatever. Deeds and title will be furnished to any one who may purchase.

CITY AUCTION ROOM.

A BEAUTIFUL HOME IN WAUWATOSA for sale at a great bargain. A beautiful Cottage House, containing in all ten rooms, together with three acres of land. The house is nearly finished or painted with every description of Shrubbery, and also with forty bearing trees of various kinds, and a fine garden. The entire property will be sold at a great sacrifice, and there is a prospect of a Horse Railroad to Wauwatosa, which will and must make the property valuable and desirable. The price of the above property is twelve hundred dollars, cash down two hundred dollars, balance in yearly payments of two hundred dollars—7 per cent. interest.

MONETARY.

SATURDAY P. M., July 28th, 1860.

The money market has been very quiet during the past week, and we have no change to note in rates. Eastern Exchange has been steady at 1¼ ₰ cent pre mium, and Money easy for commercial purposes at the usual rate. The advance of ¼ ₰ cent in Exchange at Chicago, gave it more firmness here, but there is very little probability of any higher rates than the present in either city.

NEW YORK MONEY MATTERS.—We have the following by telegraph from New York to-day, in reference to money and stocks:

COMMERCIAL.

SATURDAY P. M., July 28th, 1860.

We have reached the very dullest period of the year, commercially speaking. The farmers are busy taking care of their luxuriant crops, and have no time to send anything to market, while many of our merchants are improving the occasion to enjoy a little relaxation from the toils of active business life. The weather thus far has been all that could be desired for securing the harvest, and there is now hardly room for a doubt but that Wisconsin will be blessed with far the most abundant yield of grain that we ever have reaped. We have had just enough rain to give vigor to all kinds of vegetation, while the temperature has been such as to keep the wheat from rusting.

The latest news from Europe indicates rather more favorable prospects for the crops than previous advices, and in consequence there has been a material decline in all American markets since last week. But cline in all American markets since last week. But notwithstanding this there is a very well founded impression that there will be a large deficiency in European crops which will have to be supplied from this side of the Atlantic. The circulars of the most intelligent dealers at the East seem to concede this much, and they note a liberal foreign demand, which is likely to continue if prices in our markets are not forced up to an exorbitant point by speculative operations.

In our market the business done during the past week has been so trifling as to give very little importance to quotations, which are nominally 14@16c below the closing prices of last week for wheat. The last sales of wheat show a range of 90@95c for No. 2 spring to Extra Club. These are the outside figures that shippers will name, and they are not very anxious to purchase, as it is difficult to make up a cargo, there is so little arriving, and they prefer to await the developments of the future, rather than run the chances of holding under the present unsettled aspect of the market. It is thought that freights must rule very high as soon as the movement of the new crops commences, and this impression has had no little influence in accelerating the downward movement in western markets.

The same influences have operated to depress the flour market, and good country extras are now freely offered at $4,75. on board. The only transactions of any account during the week were 400 bbls 'Arcade' brand, made from new winter and spring wheat, at $4,75, and 140 bbls "Cascade" Extra (a very choice quality) at $5, both made on Friday.

Coarse grains begin to arrive more freely, and amongst the deliveries are occasional lots of new barley and rye. About 28c on board is the best price shippers offer for oats, and in a retail way they are bringing 27@28c delivered. There is only a moderate demand for barley, at 55@60c for fair to prime now. New rye has ruled from 58@63c for milling. We understand that there are orders for several cargoes on the market, but the holders are limited to 60c, and will not go beyond this figure. Corn is neglected, and there have been only a few trifling sales during the week, at 41@45c, the market closing at the inside price. There has been little or no change in other articles of produce, except hides which are a shade lower.

The following statement exhibits the daily receipts of flour and grain by railroad for the past week, and also the exports of the same articles by lake for the week:

CANAL FREIGHTS—Dull, but unchanged; 26c on flour, 8 on wheat, and 7½c on corn to New York.

LAKE IMPORTS—16,000 bushels wheat.

CANAL EXPORTS—16,000 bus wheat, 28,000 bus corn.

THE SUGAR TRADE.—We do not know where the paragraph about sales of sugar came from, which appeared in our local column this morning, but we do know that it was very far from being correct. The amount of sugar which it was said four of our prominent dealers sold during the past two weeks, (1,350 bbls,) has frequently been exceeded by the sales of one alone of the houses named in that period.

CHICAGO MARKET, JULY 27TH.—Receipts of flour and grain, at Chicago, yesterday, were as follows:

Flour, bbls	717
Wheat, bus	26,017
Corn, bus	92,647
Oats, bus	863
Rye, bus	1,784
Barley, bus	350

In reference to the market the Press & Tribune says:

The corn market to-day opened quiet, with sales of No. 1 at 42c. On 'Change prices receded ½@¾c, but rallied somewhat at the close, and sales were made at 42¾@43c. There was no white wheat offered for sale and the market was firm at $1,00 for No. 1 white; $1 and the market was firm at $1,00 for No. 1 white; $1 for No. 1 red; 95c for No. 2 do; 92½@93c for No. 1 spring; made except at a concession. Flour was more active, but prices without any improvement. Oats strong, with a fair demand at 26c in store. Rye firm and in good request; at an advance of ½@¾c. Barley quiet. Freights inactive, vessel holders and shippers apart.

The market for highwines was more active at the decline. Sales were: 100 bbls at 18c; 100 bbls at 17½; 50 bbls at 17¾c.

NEW YORK EXPORTS.—A comparative statement of the exports (exclusive of specie) from New York to foreign ports, for the week, and since Jan. 1:

	1858.	1859.
For the week	$1,901,018	$1,545,107 $1,559,015
Previously reported..	35,009,848	34,272,120 41,190,744
Since Jan. 1	$36,970,365	$36,197,227 42,052,299

Among the exports were 752,300 bus wheat, 5,200 bus corn to Liverpool, 50,000 bus wheat to London; 32,800 bus wheat, 3,550 bbls flour to Bristol; 1,215 bags flour, and 1,720 bbls do, 85,600 bus wheat to Glasgow; 12,800 and 1,720 bbls do, 85,600 bus wheat to Glasgow; 12,800 bus wheat, 500 bbls flour, 11,000 bus corn to Galway.—N. Y. Tribune, 25.

Daily Review of Milwaukee Markets.

SATURDAY, July 28th—1 P. M.

FLOUR—Receipts to-day were only 20 bbls. Some small lots of good country extra were offered at $4,75, without finding a buyer.

WHEAT—Receipts were only 694 bus, and there was none on the market. Prices are therefore nominal.—No. 1 Spring would probably bring 90c.

OATS—Receipts 1,782 bus. We note a sale of 50 bus delivered at 27c. Shippers will not pay more than 26c on board.

CORN—Receipts 188 bus. 150 bus Shelled at 44

Milwaukee Grocery Market.

MILWAUKEE, July 28, 1860.

We have to report an active condition of trade for the past month, induced by the requirements of the country during harvest, and stimulated, doubtless, by the improved tone of feeling in regard to future prospects. The opinion generally prevails that the consumption of goods in Wisconsin, Minnesota and other sections tributary to Milwaukee, will be greater than in any previous season, while ample means for payment will soon be realized from the crops.

Under the influence of a good demand and abundant supplies of money seeking investment at the principal business points, several staple articles of grocerie have been steadily advancing for some time past. Though the stock of sugars on hand at Eastern ports is quite large for the season, yet owing to the causes mentioned this staple has experienced an advance in the last month, of fully 2c for prime on all grades, while no considerable importations are expected at present, we can hardly look for any immediate decline. As we remarked a few months since, the consumption of the staple is rapidly exceeding its production, and it now remains to be seen whether exhorbitant prices will restrict the use sufficiently to attract the rates. It is reported that the crop in Brazil which comes to market in October, will be unusually large.

The advance in Teas, previously noticed, has been fully sustained, and for the low and medium grades, still higher figures are obtained. Good teas are at all times really the cheapest, but that is materially the case at present.

The market for less important descriptions of goods is firm; for foreign dried fruits and spices is decidedly higher.

GOODRICH & TERRY.

Milwaukee Lumber Market.

(FOR WEEK ENDING JULY 27TH, 1860.)

Receipts as compared with last week and for the season:

	This week.	Last week.	For the season.
Lumber, feet	1,239,000	675,000	17,227,200
Shingles	171,000	540,000	2,111,000
Lath, ft	54,000	44,000	1,111,000

It will be seen that the receipts are nearly double those of last week. All cargoes offered were readily taken at about the same rates which prevailed last week. There is one noticeable feature just now in cargo sales, viz: that Michigan lumber sells for nearly, if not quite as much as Green Bay. This arises from the fact that many manufacturers at Oconto, and other places on Green Bay, are in the habit, this season, of sorting their lumber before shipping, and sending the upper qualities to the Eastern markets. Of course, dealers are somewhat shy of the lumber which comes from that district.

Among the sales of cargoes are the following:

Cargo of schr. L. Indiagton, from Manistee, $6,37:

do do J. Patton, do Oconto, $6,25;

do do Brigham do Grand River, $6,50 do do W. H. Stevens, do Menominee, 6,75.

Lath are higher and would readily bring $2@2,25.

Shingles remain at $1,75 for best A.

Trade from the yards better than last week, but still very dull. No change in quotations.
